A very busy day.

The conference at B.C. was pleasantly informal but instructive. Unfortunately almost all supervisors --- except for a few - were entirely mute so it was partially a Quaker meeting.

The Institute director's meetings was a bit duller than ever. Mr. Zartman drove me to B.Y.M. station & I took a taxi back to office to clear up some work.

My last meeting as Director - The meetings were pretty generally boring --- or perhaps I am allergic to meetings -

Who Love Can Never Die

Who love can never die. They are a part
Of all that lives beneath the summer's sky;
With the world's living soul their souls are one:
Nor shall they in vast Nature be undone
And lost in the general life; each separate heart
Shall live, and find its own, and never die.

Ship Brings 549 Refugees Here Tomorrow Morning

The Marine Flasher, carrying the second contingent of displaced persons into Boston, is expected to dock at Commonwealth Pier tomorrow at 8 a.m.

The 549 passengers, majority from Poland and Lithuania, will be welcomed to their haven by Gov. Dever and H. D. Hodgkinson, chairman of the Massachusetts Commission of Displaced Persons. Most of the refugees are sponsored by the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society.

Ninety-five children under 10 are listed among passengers on the Marine Flasher, one of 25 ships operating under the I. R. O., which will carry some 205,000 refugees to the United States within a two-year period. The Marine Flasher sailed from Bremerhaven, Germany, Jan. 17.

Workers from a dozen volunteer organizations and government bureaus will be on hand tomorrow to guide arrivals through customs and place them on special trains, which will take many to New York, some to the South and others as far as the West Coast.

Thirteen will find homes in Greater Boston; in all, 64 will reside in New England. Pier authorities have requested relatives, friends and sponsors not to bring private cars onto the pier in order to avoid congestion.

International Institute will provide interpreters. The Greater Boston Committee for Displaced Persons, set up by the Greater Boston Community Council, will coordinate participating organizations to assist in the disembarkation.

Children, elderly persons and those who may be ill will be assisted by the Red Cross First Aid Corps. Other Red Cross workers will dispense coffee, milk, cocoa and a light lunch.

Representatives of the three major religious faiths of the newcomers—National Catholic Welfare Conference, Church World Service, United Service for New Americans, International Rescue and Relief Committee, United Ukrainian Relief and the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society will be on the pier.

Arrival tomorrow of the Marine Flasher will bring the total number to 1362 newcomers entering through Boston. The Army transport Omar Bundy docked here with 813 displaced persons Nov. 18.

Boston StocksT.G.M. says:*Preferred Stocks
vs. Bonds

The relationship of high grade preferred stocks to bonds is a subject generally taken for granted. For the most part it is assumed that, since both represent a fixed rate of return, they will move more or less together. Over a period of time there is a correlation.

The subject becomes more interesting in observing the occasions on which they deviate. What is more, the deviation is quite marked at times. Some who have studied the relationship feel that the normal yield differential between high grade preferreds and bonds is about 1 percent. That is if high grade bonds yield 2.87 percent, preferreds should yield about 3.87 percent.

A chart of Standard & Poor's 15 preferred stocks and Moody's triple A double A and single A corporate bonds from 1919 to the present based on yield fairly well confirms this view. However, in 1920, in 1928 to 1932 and again at the present time this relationship is very much distorted. In 1920 the yield differential was less than $\frac{1}{2}$ percent. In the final stages of the bull market of the 1920's and on up to 1931 the yield differential closed up again. In fact the yield on preferreds and AA grade bonds was the same in 1931. As compared to the A grade bonds the preferred stocks actually yielded about 1 percent less. Incidentally, the preferreds at that time yielded about 5 percent. By 1932 preferred stocks had fallen to a 6 percent yield while A grade bonds were down further to just over 7 percent.

Obviously what happened here was a matter of credit risk. Triple A quality bonds were back to normal ratio to preferreds. Lesser quality bonds were not considered as good a risk as high grade preferreds.

At present the yield differential is over 1 percent in favor of the preferreds. The spreads as of Oct. 28 were 1.39 percent for Triple A bonds, 1.21 percent for AA bonds and 1.09 percent for A bonds. This differential has only been exceeded once since 1919, that occasion was in 1942. Based on past history, preferreds should give a better result for the time being than long corporate bonds. That is, if the gap narrows to a normal relationship, either bonds will have to decline

Fifty-Four Plan to Make Homes in New England

The S. S. Ernie Pyle will dock at Commonwealth Pier Monday with 598 displaced persons from Europe. Fifty-four will make their homes in New England.

Chartered by the International Refugee Organization, the vessel sailed from Hamburg, Germany, Feb. 10. Among those on board are 143 children, and of these 76 are under six.

Twelve of the passengers will settle in Massachusetts, 36 in Connecticut, five in Rhode Island and one in Maine. New York will take the largest number, 257.

The immigrants will be greeted in Polish, Lithuanian and German, languages spoken by most, by members of the Massachusetts Commission of Displaced Persons.

Poising the welcome will be Alphonse S. Bachorowski of the Massachusetts Department of Industrial Accidents; Anthony S. Kneizys, editor of the Lithuanian newspaper Darbininkas, and Mrs. Oliver Cope, Cambridge.

Bad Weather Delays Ship Transporting 598 DPs Here

Heavy seas and bad weather have delayed the arrival of the S.S. Ernie Pyle, bringing 598 displaced persons to Boston, until 7:30 tomorrow morning. Adverse weather conditions encountered throughout the voyage across the Atlantic have caused widespread seasickness among passengers, only 12 of whom will remain in Massachusetts homes after they leave Commonwealth Pier.

In the Massachusetts group were a Polish dairyman, his wife and three children, aged 2 to 8, who will go to 308 East street, Chicopee. The family consists of Jamema Popol, 39; Olena Popol, 37, and Marta, 8, Jurij, 5, and Andreas, 2. The youngest child was born in Germany, evidently in a DP camp as the family awaited removal to the United States.

Listed as "stateless" are Sinaida Sushanek, 56, and Inna Sushanek, 24, Russian natives, who will go to Whitman street, Williamstown, under the sponsorship of Church World Service.

Others who will find new homes in the Bay State are J. J. Vicius, Lithuanian, welcomed at 110 Line

54 FOR NEW ENGLAND

A total of 54 of the arrivals will settle in New England, 36 in Connecticut, five in Rhode Island, one in Maine and the 12 in Massachusetts.

The Ernie Pyle passengers were to be welcomed to their new country in three languages. A greeting in German was to be extended by Mrs. Oliver Cope of Cambridge; in Polish by Alphonse S. Bachorowski of the Massachusetts Department of Industrial Accidents, and in Lithuanian, by Anthony F. Kneizys, editor of the Lithuanian newspaper, Darbininkas. On hand to help make the landing an unforgettable happy occasion for the pilgrims were to be members of the Massachusetts Commission of Displaced Persons and Red Feather services.

People's Editor:

As an American of Latvian parentage I feel called upon to say a word in behalf of the 29 Latvian refugees. Certainly such a fine group of people as these deserve admission. Sunday I had the privilege of visiting these people and was deeply moved by their faith in God and in our great country. They are not asking for charity and all are able workers in very good health. Their professions range from teacher, doctor, and engineer to carpenter and farmer, all of which skills are sorely needed in our country today.

It is a matter of statistical data that the Latvians have been very easily assimilated into American life. One of the first men to be killed in the Civil War was a Latvian. Many have become famous in their fields. Among noted Latvian-Americans are the composer Alfred Kalnins, Dr. Eiman, eminent pathologist, and Alexander Siemel, well known writer and wild-game photographer, and whose books on the Brazilian Matto Grosso have thrilled thousands. At present there are about 50,000 Latvians and their descendants in America.

I earnestly urge that this great newspaper do all in its power to help these unfortunate 29 Latvian refugees. America will always be the winner to have admitted these wonderful, courageous people. May the faith of these Latvian refugees in the humanitarian spirit of the American people not be in vain.

Trial Method

To THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR:

Your editorial of September 8, "What Should It Expect?" provides an opportunity to point out the injustice done Alger Hiss.

There are three methods by which men judge their fellows. The first is trial by identity, in which a man's race or religion is sufficient grounds to condemn him. The recent incarceration of American citizens of Japanese blood is an example of this type of lynch law.

The second method, stemming from the first, is trial by confrontation. This method lends itself to serious injustice. Men falsely accuse their fellows for many reasons, among which are fear, greed, and hatred. This method is standard jurisprudence in Russia. The court testimony of Bukharin's trial is particularly illuminating both as to method and to the bizarre end to which the method has been carried.

The third method is our own trial by evidence.

According to the laws of evidence and justice, Alger Hiss is an honorable man.

"Drest in a

Little Brief Authority

To the Editor—Hearty thanks to "Curious Observer" for a smooth bit of reporting about the "rookie"—cop who browbeat the old "hokey-pokey"—man in Boston's shopping district. Seasoned men of the police are away ahead of that fellow in dealing with such petty stuff, I have observed. But those two paragraphs must have made an eloquent sermon to the cop, if he read it, as well as to all such, police, judiciary, or in any administrative job having directly to do with men, women, children. The incident made me recollect Shakespeare's:

But man, proud man,
Drest in a little brief authority,
Most ignorant of what he's most assured,
His glassy essence, like an angry ape,
Plays such fantastic tricks before high heaven
As make the angels weep.

BOSTON TRAVELER MONDAY, MAY 23, 1949

Gracious Ladies

By NATALIE GORDON

Social worker Marion E. Rowe of Cambridge has a knack for landing in the midst of a crisis. Her career to date has included both fire and hurricane disaster, and helping to clean up after the First World War. . . . In her current job as executive secretary of the Greater Boston Committee on Displaced Persons she has coordinated the services of six national voluntary agencies representing three major religious faiths of the DP's, as well as services of some 10 state and city agencies. . . . Besides that job, she is now in her fifth year as executive secretary of the Family and Child Care Division of the Greater Boston Community Council. . . . On the home front, during her necessarily scattered leisure hours, she makes a hobby of cooking, which, in common with the French, she regards as a fine art and not one to be casually undertaken with a can-opener. . . . A native of Gloucester, she was graduated from B.U. College of Liberal Arts, where she majored in the social sciences, spent her undergraduate days volunteering for the Family Society in Salem, where she then lived. Later, she studied at both the Simmons College and Smith College Schools of Social Work. . . . Meanwhile she worked with the Family Society in Boston, and in 1917 was one of a group of six people selected to go to Halifax, N. S., under the auspices of the Red Cross, to do rehabilitation work after the munition ship explosion which killed nearly 2000. . . . In Latvia she was sent to Latvia by the Red Cross to establish child welfare centers and to conduct relief programs. Previously she had served as a field organizer for the New England Division of the Red Cross. . . . Returning from Latvia, she became executive director of the Family Society in New Bedford, where she helped build the organization on an even keel during a

STATEMENT ON DP SHIPS HIT

Bresnahan Cites Money
Spent by Vessels Here

Answering charges of Colonel Leonard B. Gallagher, manager of the Maritime Association of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, in connection with the temporary diversion of displaced persons' vessels from Boston, John M. Bresnahan, acting director of the Port of Boston Authority, last night charged Colonel Gallagher with being "guilty of gross inaccuracies in every line of his statement."

Mr. Bresnahan pointed out that a cargo vessel coming to Boston and discharging 3000 tons of merchandise is estimated to leave $80,000 in direct wages to labor, in addition to amounts expended for ship stores, repairs, fuel and other items. He also showed such a ship needs pilots, tugboat men, line handlers, longshoremen, railroad workers and truckmen.

In contrast, he said, a displaced persons' vessel leaves about $25,000 here of which more than 50 per cent is in railroad fares. A DP ship uses but one gang of longshoremen for a single day, he said.

The Army transport Gen. R. S. Muir arrives here today from Bremerhaven, Germany, with another large group of displaced persons from Central European countries.

As in the case of all recent arrivals extra customs guards were ordered on duty to prevent further smuggling of valuables into the United States.

Welcoming the arrivals are heads of a number of social, civic and religious organizations. The Gen. Muir carries nearly 900 refugees, only 98 of them scheduled to remain in New England.

The Union is much more than a woman's exchange, however. It has three employment bureaus, each working in a special field. The Appointment Bureau is concerned with trained business and professional women, with the exception of nurses. A major part of its work has always been vocational counsel, and its staff is constantly called upon to help guide and maintain the clear thinking of both young and experienced workers.

The Bureau for the Handicapped offers a unique service. Working with other social agencies in analyzing applicants' capabilities, it places older women or those who are physically handicapped in household and industrial positions. Much time is devoted to giving encouragement and advice.

The Emergency Employment Bureau supplies women to work by the day doing cleaning, cooking

To be glad of life, because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars; to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners; to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends and every day of Christ; and to spend as much time as you can with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors—these are little guide-posts on the foot path of peace.

16,580 D. P.'s Due During August, Record Number

WASHINGTON, Aug 1 (AP) - A record number of displaced persons, 16,580, are expected to be brought to the United States during August, the International Refugee Organization announced today.

The agency said 16 chartered Army transports will carry the D.P.'s from Bremerhaven, Germany, to Boston, New York and New Orleans. This would exceed by more than 5000 the total 11,547 transported in 13 vessels during July.

The speed-up is to ensure the arrival of 205,000 D.P.'s authorized for admittance into the United States by June 30, 1950.

The agency said that on July 22 the 50,000th D.P. authorized for admittance under the Displaced Persons act of 1948 arrived at Boston.

Following are the ships coming to Boston, and their estimated departure and arrival times and capacity.

[CHAP. 726]

AN ACT TO SECURE FAIR EDUCATIONAL PRACTICES, EQUALITY OF EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY, AND TO ELIMINATE AND PREVENT DISCRIMINATION IN EDUCATION BECAUSE OF RACE, RELIGION, COLOR OR NATIONAL ORIGIN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Declaration of Policy.— It is hereby declared to be the policy of the commonwealth that the American ideal of equality of opportunity requires that students, otherwise qualified, be admitted to educational institutions without regard to race, color, religion, creed or national origin, except that, with regard to religious or denominational educational institutions, students, otherwise qualified, shall have the equal opportunity to attend therein without discrimination because of race, color or national origin. It is a fundamental American right for members of various religious faiths to establish and maintain educational institutions exclusively or primarily for students of their own religious faith or to effectuate the religious principles in furtherance of which they are maintained. Nothing contained in this act shall impair or abridge that right.

SECTION 2. The General Laws are hereby amended by inserting after chapter 151B the following new chapter:—

CHAPTER 151C.

FAIR EDUCATIONAL PRACTICES.

Section 1. As used in this chapter—

(a) The word "board" means the board of education established by section one A of chapter fifteen.

(b) The term "educational institution" means any institution for instruction or training, including but not limited to secretarial, business, vocational, trade schools, academies, colleges, universities, primary and secondary schools, which accepts applications for admission from the public generally and which is not in its nature distinctly private, except that nothing herein shall be deemed to prevent a religious or denominational educational institution from selecting its students exclusively from adherents or members of such religion or denomination or from giving preference in such selection to such adherents or members.

(c) The term "religious or denominational educational institution" shall include any educational institution, whether operated separately, or as a department of, or school within the university, and which is operated, supervised or controlled by religious or denominational organiza-

Went to Laurence office circa 10.

Mr. Carey was sitting at a very untidy desk with newspaper spread out in front of him. The desk was piled high with files, papers, baseball magazines.

Two broken chairs in the side of the room added to the picture of a very untidy office.

Even by urging and giving leads I could get no picture of D.P. in Laurence and no interest in matter.

He said he hired Demes to move desk and that Demes would send bill.

I was not favorably impressed.

Ms. Zanchi was working. Her office seemed a bit disordered also - bookcase with empty shelves - etc.

BOSTON TRAVELER, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1949

HAVE YOU HEARD

By Bill Schofield

You can find more nationalities per square foot at 190 Beacon street than you'd find at a United Nations clambake.

For that Beacon street address is the home of the International Institute of Boston. And through its doorways on almost any day of the week pass Italians, Albanians, Lithuanians, Hungarians, Greeks, Swiss, and name-what-you-will.

They come there originally to listen to the institute's advice on how to get adjusted in a strange and new homeland. They come back on later days and nights to take part in the institute's cultural program — to eat a Ceylonese East Indian dinner, or dance, or listen to Syrian music.

"We not only try to help the new arrivals get acquainted with America," says Miss Alfrieda Mosher, the institute's cultivation secretary. "We also try to help the people of all the nationalities in Boston—help them to live together and understand the background differences of other nations."

Miss Mosher is a white-haired little lady who sits at a big desk on the third floor of the institute's building. There's a view of the Charles river behind her, and usually a foreign-born client in front of her.

She admits that she herself had something to do with starting the institute plan, some 40 years ago. "It must have been over 40," she says. "My hair was different in those days."

SHE CAME TO THIS CITY as placed Persons Commission. And the New Hampshire-born daughter there, at the moment, lies its business of a U.S. diplomat. Behind her were est project—meeting the incoming years of traveling and living in DP ships, helping the arrivals France, Germany and other parts through customs and immigration, of Europe. Austerity Redefined

We always thought austerity meant a kind of super-economy, a tightening of the belt to where it hurt. We applauded the governor when he urged an austerity program on his department heads. We are correspondingly bewildered when the aftermath is the replacement of a volunteer executive secretary of the airport board by a $6000 a year, 66-year-old one.

Why shouldn't the new public relations man serve in this capacity? It would have kept him in contact with airport doings, an essential to one doing a good public relations job there.

The airport needs good public relations as badly as the Port of Boston, which proved its need by turning down DP ships because of the "Christmas rush." To let a deserving Democrat rate a pension at the cost of the good impression left by the austerity message is hardly sound administration or even common sense.

Another Top Heat Mark;
Day 28° Above Normal

Highest temperature in Boston for Dec. 28 (Weather Bureau records) is 60 degrees, made in 1907; lowest is -2.5 in 1872.

Although it was a Winter day, yesterday must be considered as hot and drizzly. A new top temperature was established for the third day within a week, at 60.6 degrees. The old one, 60.2, was made in 1895. With the day's minimum at 54.5, the average was 28 above normal. Fog, mist and light showers gave Boston .23 inch of rain, which is disappointingly light.

New York state fared much better, with heavy rains in parts of the New York city watershed, and there was more than an inch in parts of Connecticut. The whole great section from Texas and Michigan to the Atlantic Ocean was cloudy, with rain falling in varying amounts, some of which were: Hartford, 1.02 inches; New Haven, .70; Block Island, .45; Nantucket, .33; Elmira, N. Y., 1.06; Buffalo, 1 inch; Memphis, .55; Canton, N. Y., .40. Weather showed signs of clearing in the Ohio Valley and New York late in the day.

In the Northern Plains states they were getting snow and cold weather. Devil's Lake, N. D., reported -8 at 1:30 p. m. It was sunny there at that time. At Ft. Peck, Mont., it was snowing, with 15 inches on the ground. In the deep south temperatures were mostly in the 70's, with Mobile reporting 75, New Orleans 74 and Tampa 80. Along the western coast temperatures ranged between 40 and 50. San Diego, Calif., reported 60 and a low of 50 from Salt Lake City.

← It was terribly oppressive.

Memoranda

July 28, 1949 -- 2 P.C. 200

Dear Congressman Lane:

This is in further reference to your letter of June 9 concerning the enclosed communication from Miss Alice J. O'Connor, Supr. of Soc. Serv., Div. of Immigr. & Amer., Dept. of Edue., Commonwealth of Mass., which I am returning to you as per your request.

You will recall that on June 14 Mr. Rosenfeld spoke to you about it and indicated we were making a complete inquiry into the circumstances.

Frankly, we are a little bit puzzled by the communication. From the outset we have recognized and cooperated to the fullest with Miss O'Connor and the Division of Immigration and Americanization in the processing of assurances. We recognize her agency as a public agency qualified to submit assurances to us. We have and still do recognize her agency as qualified to submit assurances directly to us. In addition, the Massachusetts Displaced Persons Commission looks to Miss O'Connor's Division to provide the services needed in processing assurances submitted to that body. So there can be no problem about the assurances submitted in behalf of spouses in the state of Massachusetts.

Memoranda

With reference to the operations on the pier, to which Miss O'Connor refers, you will be interested to know that the Greater Boston Committee was set up by responsible leaders in Boston together with representatives of the national voluntary agencies recognized by the Commission. From the outset, we recognized that it would be necessary to have the cooperation and assistance of many groups and organizations who have been interested in immigration, in order that we would have a complete and orderly pier operation. As you know, the Commission does not have funds available which would enable it to finance the extensive services that are required in ports of entry. We are, therefore, very fortunate in having the full cooperation of the public and private welfare groups in Greater Boston, who do provide these services under the general supervision of the Commission.

Miss O'Connor has from the very beginning been a member of the Greater Boston Committee. She is in charge of that phase of the program which unites relatives after they have been processed by Public Health, Immigration and Customs Service. In this capacity, she has full access to the pier. She also participate in all the meetings held by the Greater Boston Committee in connection with the maintenance of the over-all services required.

Under the circumstances it would be best for Miss O'Connor to discuss this matter with the Greater Boston Committee, which has been doing an outstanding job of organizing and carrying out a real reception program in the slips (and in there). The cooperative relationships between the Greater Boston Committee and the Massachusetts State Displaced Persons Commission with this Commission have been so excellent and smooth that we feel it only fair to suggest this procedure.

I should be delighted to discuss the matter with you further if I can be of assistance.

Sincerely yours,
Mgo Corusci

Mr. J. Nussbaum
Chief Social Worker
Cushing Veterans Administration Hospital
Framingham, Massachusetts

Dear Mr. Nussbaum:

I am glad to write you concerning Michael Francis Sullivan of 80 Mount Vernon Street, Boston, Massachusetts, who has made application to the Veterans Administration as a medical social worker.

Mr. Sullivan worked in the Boston office of the Division of Immigration and Americanization for several short periods averaging from two to six months at a time, and then for about a year in 1940. Mr. Sullivan worked at the office first while an undergraduate at Dartmouth, but later returned to work after a year's teaching experience and some graduate work.

In the 1940 period of work, Mr. Sullivan developed and supervised an emergency project primarily planned to handle the service with applicants who were aliens required to register under the Alien Registration Act. The work also included help to these aliens in filling out and filing the necessary papers to become citizens of the United States.

The work was under the general supervision of the Supervisor of Social Service, Miss Alice W. O'Connor, but Mr. Sullivan had the responsibility for training and supervising a group of workers who did the actual interviewing, recording and filling out of applications. The workers under Mr. Sullivan had no supervision other than that given by him as he handled their work assignments and the necessary orientation of them into the technical aspects of the work. He had, of course, had considerable experience in such interviewing and had the technical information required to give correct information on the points on issue.

At this time of alien registration, the alien clients were disturbed and distressed by the procedure so that great skill had to be used to prevent explosive incidents. Furthermore, many of them were elderly and ill and found it difficult to remember the places of residence and other points on which they were queried. Many were non-English speaking and it was necessary to use interpretative service.

Mr. Sullivan's relationships with the regular staff were pleasant and cooperative; frequently occasions arose which required consultation with a staff member. The working group under him carried

R. Henry Nicolls, Assistant District Director of Immigration and Naturalization, United States Department of Labor, Boston District, spoke at the hearing April 26, 1939 against elimination of the State Division of Immigration and Americanization.

His discussion of the situation may be summarized as follows:

1. The Governor of Massachusetts was informed that the State work was a duplication of the federal work. All the services given by the State Division are not available free of cost through the Federal Government. None of the services are available. The federal office has no interest in the applications for naturalization until they are received properly filled out. The federal service does not fill out forms. Forms filled by applicants are often returned five and six times for correction. The Federal Government is no more required to fill out the applications for the naturalization examination than the civil service is required to fill out forms that office gives out. Because of the difficulty in filling out forms, the State Division fills a useful purpose not duplicated by the federal office.

2. Although immigration has fallen off, naturalization has not. Naturalization has increased tremendously. He stated that this year the Boston district has received over 30,000 more applications than the previous year, or an over 50 per cent increase.

3. The problem of help in naturalization is a real one. It may be true that only 3 states maintain immigration divisions but in many states there are public offices doing similar work paid out of tax funds. He mentioned Alabama, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York, District of Columbia and other coast states. The information on this point he gave as from authentic sources from heads of federal service in those localities.

4. The cost of naturalization varies from $5 to $20 depending upon particular individuals and therefore additional fees for service might be hard for individuals to meet. Sale of booklet might be possible but price of $1 would be excessive as commercial booklets retail for 25¢.

5. The existence of the State Division has practically eliminated successful activities of chiselers and fixers. He reported instances of persons paying as high as $1000 to circumvent law and attempt illegal naturalization. The work of chiselers and fixers eliminated largely through excellent work of Division. He commended the excellent work and knowledge of naturalization law and rules as shown by employees of Division in all offices.
